THE MASTER NUMBERS

There are three master numbers (same digit repeated twice); 11, 22 and 33. They are considered the masters because they embody one, two, three; the fullness of creative energy, a holy trinity if you will. "Master" numbers can be challenging in "mastering" their qualities and stepping into their strengths. When master numbers show up, know you're receiving messages of either approval, initiation or purpose or all three. Through the number 11, there is a potential of reaching spiritual enlightenment, which comes into manifestation through the number 22 and is shared with the rest of the world through the number 33.

MASTER NUMBER 11

the psychic number

The dual power of one enhances the individualistic qualities and intensity of the power of the number one. Qualities included illumination, intuition, independence, inquisitiveness, inspiration, inner-insight, and inter-relatedness. Leadership is often a quality of this number, and so is co-operation as it reduces to the number 2 (representing partnerships). And so, the dualistic qualities of masculine and feminine principles are present.

11 holds the quality of psychic receptivity as a channel to the subconscious realms, and because of this, there is a sensitivity or nervous energy about this number. It will often create an inner conflict between the powers of one and two, with fears of stepping up to the plate to lead or concerns over what people might think. This dynamism is needed to break into its highest expression. Once balanced, the forces of 11 act as a doorway to new thresholds and eventual spiritual enlightenment. The master number 11 asks us to accept spiritual truths, listen to our intuition and have faith in our inner wisdom and psychic messages.

the builder number

The double power of two combines and enhances the intuition and wisdom faculties to pull dreams from the spiritual realms and manifest them in the physical domain. It works in a practical way to set the foundation for spiritual things through the number four's power; there is incredible power the move mountains in the number 22. In the Hebrew language, the 22 letters of the alphabet represent all of creation in its power. With two's capabilities, we also have the pragmatic energies of four to balances out the highly spiritual nature to produce tangible results.

22 holds the goal of serving ambitions larger than personal desires, to build something for the future, a legacy for all. Luckily there is great confidence in this number to lead others and work hard to execute big plans to make dreams a reality. The master number 22 asks us to take our dreams and make them reality not just for ourselves but also for humanity.

MASTER NUMBER 33

the teacher number

The dual power of three takes the creative potential and abilities of manifestation while enveloping them in the forces of love bringing forth teachings and guidance of the highest nature. There is a constant flow of spiritual energy, with the number 33 connecting to the divine through the powers of six, love and harmony. This number's nurturing and caring element serves as a helper, guide, and teacher of spiritual things.

33 is considered the most significant number embodying spiritually evolved powers. Its focus is on uplifting the soul through the highest expression of devotion and love — selflessness. Insight, teachings and wisdom are always available around the number 33, and there are often gifts and blessings to be received. Powerful messages come with the number 33, including a level of attainment. The number 33 asks us to realize who we are as spiritual beings and share this gift with the world by showing our compassion and love!
